

Publishing with AsianJIL

www.AsianJIL.org

How AsianJIL operates. I.e. from receiving a paper to final publication and everything in between:

- Article/ Note/ Comment
- Submission → Ed. Office/Eds. → Reject/ Reviews → 2 positive reviews = Offer to publish.
- 3rd review
- Anonymous feedback
- What reviewers are asked to look out for:
 - Significance of subject
 - Scholarly contribution of the article
 - Originality
- Revise and resubmit – Minor; Major
- Reject and Resubmit (Note/Comment)
- Reject (Note/Comment)
- Copyediting and Proofs

Advice to young scholars seeking to publish in AsianJIL

- Read the submission guidelines to authors – borderline topics
- House style
- LLM thesis
- PhD chapters
- ExpressO – sole submission
- Be patient re reviews especially for Asian topics – 8 reviewers or more
- Be nice to the editorial office – staff and editors are not servants and nobody deserves abuse. Remember that doing journals is a labour of love and free labour!
