

CENTRE FOR INTERNATIONAL LAW
National University of Singapore

RESEARCH ASSOCIATE IN INTERNATIONAL DISPUTE RESOLUTION PROGRAMME

CIL is accepting applications for a Research Associate to join our International Dispute and Resolution Programme, with the following main duties:

- Assist Programme Head in conducting in-depth research and report writing on topics of international dispute resolution both self-directed and as assigned.
- Assist in organising and executing CIL's annual Singapore International Arbitration Academy and International Law in Review Program including event design, management and post-event reporting.

Candidates must possess a minimum qualification of an LL.B. with an LL.M. being highly desirable. Candidates must have a good knowledge of international law; highly developed research and writing skills; strong organisational and communications skills. Good knowledge of arbitration or conciliation would also be desirable.

For further information about CIL, please visit the website at <https://cil.nus.edu.sg/>.

Interested candidates should send the following to Miss Yvonne Lee at cil.jobs@nus.edu.sg by 27 September 2019:

- CV
- Letter of interest
- Two writing samples
- The names/contact information of two referees

CIL provides a lively and congenial work environment and the opportunity to engage with in-house and visiting international law experts. The successful candidate will be expected to participate in Centre events and activities, as well as to pursue his/her own research project with a view to publication.