

Dr Christina VOIGT

Professor, Department of Public and International Law, University of Oslo, Norway

Member, IUCN World Commission on Environmental Law (WCEL)

Dr Christina Voigt is a renowned expert in international environmental law and professor at the University of Oslo. She is passionate about legal issues of climate change, environmental multilateralism, and sustainability. Professor Voigt has published widely on these topics and is a frequent speaker at international and national events. She also works as legal adviser for the Government of Norway, as well as for several International and Non-Governmental Organisations.

Professor Voigt is the chair of the Climate Change Specialist Group of the IUCN World Commission on Environmental Law and a member of the IUCN Climate Change Task Force. She currently is the official candidate for the position of chair of the IUCN World Commission on Environmental Law, for election at the postponed IUCN World Conservation Congress in 2021.

She has two young sons, lives on the beautiful Nesodden Peninsula near Oslo, Norway, and enjoys hiking, biking, skiing and sailing with her family.