

Dean JP Villasor earned his Master's degree specializing in the International Law of the Sea from the London School of Economics (LSE) in London, England. He is the National Adviser on Legal Education of the Integrated Bar of the Philippines (IBP), and is also a member of the IBP National Committee on International Law and International Affairs. He is the author of an essay on Philippine Legal Education with the British Institute of International and Comparative Law (BIICL), which is forthcoming in 2022, and is currently teaching Constitutional Law and Public International Law in the Philippines.