

Judge Kriangsak Kittichaisaree is a judge of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea. He was a member of the UN International Law Commission (2012-2016), responsible for the ILC's topic 'Obligation to extradite or prosecute (aut dedere aut judicare)'; Chairman of the UN General Assembly's Sixth Committee's Working Group on the Administration of Justice at the United Nations; and President of the 25th Meeting of States Parties to the 1982 UN Convention on the Law of the Sea, among others. A career Thai lawyer diplomat until the commencement of his 9-year-term judgeship at the Tribunal in October 2017, he served as Director-General of the Department of International Organizations, and, subsequently, Thailand's Ambassador to Iran, Australia, and the Russian Federation.

He has taught courses in international law at the University of New South Wales, National University of Singapore, Duke University's Asia-America Institute of Transnational Law, University of Hamburg, and IMO International Maritime Law Institute, among others. Sometime Visiting Fellow at the University of Oxford, his publications include International Criminal Law (OUP 2001), Public International Law of Cyberspace (Springer 2017), The Obligation to Extradite or Prosecute (OUP 2018), International Human Rights Law and Diplomacy (Edward Elgar Publishing 2020), The International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea (OUP, January 2021), and The Rohingya, Justice and International Law (Routledge, 1 November 2021). He was a member of the International Group of Experts writing the Tallinn Manual 2.0 on the International Law Applicable to Cyber Operations (CUP 2017).