

Camille Scotto de César is a Legal Officer in the Office of Legal Affairs of the IAEA. Her main responsibility is to provide legal inputs to the Division of Nuclear Security, especially in the development of Integrated Nuclear Security Support Plan, to support the legislative assistance program and the SMR Regulators' Forum.

After a few years working with French firms and public organisations in the nuclear field, providing legal support to operational entities in safety and security, she joined the IAEA in 2016 first as a consultant and then as Associate Safety Officer in the Regulatory Activities Section. Here she worked on the Convention on Nuclear Safety, organising the 7th and 8th Review Meeting of Contracting Parties and as part of the Secretariat of the Small Modular Reactors Regulators' Forum.

Camille holds a LLM in International and European Environmental Law from the University of Aix en Provence, Law School, in 2014 and has obtained the Paris Bar in 2016.
