

Dr Henrik Ringbom is Head of Research at the Department of Law, Åbo Akademi University, Finland, and part-time Professor at the Scandinavian Institute of Maritime Law at the University of Oslo, Norway. His previous work experience includes being Head of Unit for Marine Environment, Training and Statistics at the EU Maritime Safety Agency (EMSA) (2007-2012) and Administrator at the Maritime Safety Unit of the European Commission (1997-2003). He has published widely in the field of European and international shipping and environmental law and is co-editor of the recent book 'Autonomous Ships and the Law' (Routledge 2021). He is a member of the EMSA Administrative Board and past President of the Finnish Maritime Law Association. He is also a member of the Advisory Board of the OneSea Autonomous Maritime Ecosystem (www.oneseaecosystem.net) in Finland, the Regulatory working group of the Norwegian Forum for Autonomous Shipping, and the Comité Maritime International's international working group on autonomous ships.