

APCEL INDONESIA SERIES :

PREPARING FOR JUST TRANSITION IN A DEVELOPING WORLD

This is a hybrid webinar/in-person event consisting of two panel sessions, co-organized by Asia-Pacific Centre for Environmental Law (APCEL) and Centre for International Law (CIL), National University of Singapore. While just transition is an important component of the Paris Agreement and has been reflected in legal frameworks, this concept and its legal implications are still evolving. This event will discuss the principles, impacts and policies relating to just transition and how it relates to the Indonesian and ASEAN context.

Speakers

Sandra Moniaga, Member of the National Commission on Human Rights of the Republic of Indonesia 2012-2017 and 2017-2022

Jun Arima, Economic Research Institute for ASEAN and East Asia

Danielle Yeow, Team Lead, Climate Change Law and Policy, Centre for International Law, NUS

Railla Puno, Associate Team Lead, Climate Change Law and Policy, Centre for International Law, NUS

Tim Guanzon, Energy Lawyer, ASEAN Energy and just transition expert, Client Earth

Aldilla Noor Rakhiemah, Senior Researcher, ASEAN Centre for Energy

Paul Butarbutar, JETP Indonesia Secretary General

Martua T Sirait, Lead, Policy Support Unit, Samdhana Institute

Programme

14:00 - 14:15: Introduction

- Introduction by Jolene Lin, Director of APCEL, NUS Law
- Remarks by Nilufer Oral, Director of CIL, NUS

14:15 - 15:15: Session 1: Understanding Just Transition

- Panellists: Sandra Moniaga, Jun Arima, Danielle Yeow, Railla Puno
- Moderator: Denise Cheong, CIL

15:15- 15:35: Break and refreshments

15:35- 17:00: Session 2: The Indonesian and ASEAN Context

- Panellists: Tim Guanzon, Paul Butarbutar, Aldilla Rakhiemah, Martua T. Sirait
- Moderator: Linda Yanti Sulistiawati, APCEL

6 NOV 2024

14:00 - 17:00

Seminar Room 4-2
NUS Bukit Timah Campus
Block B, Level 4, 469 Bukit
Timah Road, Singapore 259756

In-person
Registration

Zoom
Registration

APCEL INDONESIA SERIES :

PREPARING FOR JUST TRANSITION IN A DEVELOPING WORLD

Speakers' Profiles

Sandra Moniaga has used her training in law to advocate for environmental and indigenous rights for over 25 years. Since receiving her law degree from Parahyangan Catholic University, Indonesia in 1986, she has co-developed and led several local and national NGOs focusing on rights-based and poor-oriented policy advocacy, legal resource development, democratization of law reform, and knowledge management. In November 2012 Sandra was selected by the Parliament as a Commissioner of the National Commission on Human Rights of the Republic of Indonesia (Komnas HAM - RI) and served 2x five year terms in the Commission.

Jun Arima is a Professor in the Graduate School of Public Policy, the University of Tokyo since August 2015. He currently holds the Professorship at the University of Tokyo, he serves as Project Leader for the 21st Century Public Policy, a Distinguished Senior Research Fellow at the Asia Pacific Institute of Research and a Consulting Fellow at the Research Institute of Economy, Economy, Trade and Industry, Senior Policy Fellow for Energy and Environment, Economic Research Institute for ASEAN and East Asia (ERIA). He is also a Lead Author of the Intergovernmental Panel of Climate Change (IPCC) 6th Assessment Report.

Danielle Yeow specializes in climate change law and policy issues at the Centre for International Law (CIL), National University of Singapore, and is an Adjunct Associate Professor in the Master of Science in Environmental Management Programme at the Faculty of Law. She hosts CIL's "In Conversation" series that explores a range of issues at the center of the climate debate and trends that impact the direction of the global efforts to combat climate change. Danielle is also concurrently a Senior Advisor with the DGA - Albright Stonebridge Group and a Consultant for KGP Legal (Member of InterAsia Law Alliance).

Railla Puno is an environmental lawyer with extensive experience in project management, policy development, and multi-disciplinary research. She has worked on international environmental law, climate change, biodiversity, and oceans issues over the past 10 years and has participated in UNFCCC, UNGA, and ECOSOC negotiations in various capacities.

Tim Guanzon is a lawyer at ClientEarth. Before joining ClientEarth, Tim was the Director for the Energy Committee under a Philippine Senator for close to 6 years. Her work focused on legislation and oversight over the entire energy value chain where she led the team providing legal and technical support for the passage of 11 new energy laws. She is one of the awardees of the Women in Renewables Asia 2019.

Aldilla Noor Rakhimah joined the ASEAN Centre for Energy (ACE) as Senior Officer of Power, Fossil Fuel, Alternative Energy and Storage where she also leads research for the ASEAN Climate Change and Energy Project (ACCEPT) as Senior Research Analyst. She manages and executes the implementation and coordination work of ACCEPT and aim to expands the project portfolio across Southeast Asia.

Paul Butarbutar currently serves as the Secretary General of the JETP Indonesia Secretariat. Bringing more than 24 years of experience in environmental and energy advisory work, Paul's portfolio includes managing air pollution and waste, climate financing, carbon pricing, carbon market, renewable energy, and energy efficiency investments. He has advised various Ministries in Indonesia, including the Ministry of National Development, the Ministry of Finance, and the Ministry of Environment and Forestry, as well as multilateral institutions such as the UNDP, ADB, World Bank, AusAID, among others. Paul actively contributed to Article 6 negotiations during COP26.

Martua T. Sirait has been working in land tenure and resource policy research in Indonesia and the SEA region since working at World Agroforestry Center. In 2008, he was formally recognized as a Samdhana Fellow. From 2016, he led the Policy Support Unit at Samdhana Institute to promote land tenure security for the Indigenous People's and Local Communities, and since 2018 has served as Director for Indonesia Operations at the same institutions.