

Climate Change Conference

Systemic Integration of Climate Change in International Law

Speakers, Moderators, and Presenters Profiles

Welcome Remarks

Dr. Nilüfer Oral

Director of the Centre for International Law, National University of Singapore / Senior Fellow, National University of Singapore Faculty of Law / Member, United Nations International Law Commission

Nilufer Oral is Director of the Centre of International Law at the National University of Singapore. She is a member of the UN International Law Commission (ILC) and served as Chairperson of the 74th session. She is a Co-chair of the ILC Study Group on sea-level rise in relation to international law. She is a Member The Hague Academy of International Law Curatorium and is an associate member of the Institut de Droit International. She was a legal advisor and climate change negotiator for Turkish MFA (2009-2016). She is currently a Member of the Committee of Legal Experts of the Commission of Small Island States on Climate Change and International Law (COSIS). She is a Distinguished Fellow of the Law of the Sea Institute at Berkeley Law.

Dr. Oral served on the International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN) Council (2012-2016); was Co-chair of the IUCN Specialist Group on Oceans, Coasts and Coral Reefs (2006-2018); and Chair of the IUCN Academy of Environmental Law (2014-2017).

Dr. Oral is the series editor for the International Straits of the World publications (Brill); a member of the Board of Editors of the European Society of International Law Series; Associate Editor of the Research Perspectives in the Law of the Sea (Brill). She has published numerous articles and edited several books, and has spoken at numerous international conferences.

Prof. Dr. Petra Minnerop

Professor of International Law and Director of Centre for Sustainable Development Law and Policy (CSDLP), Durham University

Professor Petra Minnerop is a Professor of International Law at Durham Law School, where she also serves as the founder and Director of the Durham Center for Sustainable Development Law and Policy. Her expertise encompasses international law, climate change law, environmental law, and human rights. She is widely recognized for her research on the intersection of law, science, and policy responses to global challenges. Professor Minnerop has advised governments, international organizations, and NGOs, contributing to the development of legal frameworks for climate action and sustainability.

In her administrative roles at Durham University, she serves as the Chair of the UN SDG Group of the University, with responsibility for the University's reporting on Sustainability (QS) and the implementation of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (including the submission to the THE Impact ranking) in the academic dimension. She leads the University's engagement with the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC). She served as Deputy Executive Dean (Global) of the Faculty of Social Sciences and Health in 2024. Professor Minnerop has also held visiting positions at universities worldwide and is a frequent speaker at academic and policy forums.

At Durham, she teaches courses on international law, human rights, and sustainability, supervising doctoral students in related fields. She is also part of editorial boards for leading journals and has published extensively on liability in international environmental law, climate protection agreements, human rights law, the classification/status of states under international law and on EU citizenship. Her current interdisciplinary research project on Just Transitions to a Net Zero World (JusTN0W) focuses on the role of international law in directing and managing interdisciplinary solutions to accelerate the decarbonisation of economies. She also works on re-thinking and applying legal concepts in the light of attribution science, including health. She is also working on issues of citizenship and belonging from the perspective of international law, in the context of mitigating the consequences of 'Brexit,' as one of the co-editors of the book on EU Citizenship as institutionalised Membership, under contract with Oxford University Press, forthcoming 2025. With Justice Brian Preston and Volker Roeben, Petra is working on a book under contract with Cambridge University Press on Solidarity in international law (forthcoming 2025).

Keynote Speaker

Ambassador Rena Lee

Singapore's Ambassador for International Law

Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Singapore

Rena Lee is Singapore's Ambassador for International Law. She has served in a number of roles in the public service for more than three decades, including with the Attorney-General's Chambers and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. She was most recently also the Chief Executive of the Intellectual Property Office of Singapore. Rena is also the Chairperson of the Governing Board of the NUS Centre for International Law. She specializes in the practice of public international law, covering diverse areas including law of the sea, environmental and climate change law, and humanitarian and human rights law. Rena was Ambassador for Oceans and Law of the Sea Issues and Special Envoy of the Minister for Foreign Affairs. In this capacity, she was elected President of the BBNJ Intergovernmental Conference in 2018 and served until the successful conclusion of the negotiations and adoption by consensus of the BBNJ Agreement in 2023.

High-Level Roundtable

Danielle Yeow

Adjunct Senior Research Fellow / Lead, Climate Change Law and Policy, National University of Singapore Centre for International Law

Danielle Yeow is a leading expert in climate change law, cyber law, and governance at the Centre for International Law (CIL), National University of Singapore (NUS), where she is also an Adjunct Associate Professor teaching in the M.Sc. in Environmental and Sustainability Management program. Danielle has held senior roles including Deputy Director General at Singapore's Attorney-General's Chambers and Deputy Chief Executive at the Intellectual Property Office of Singapore. She is a qualified Advocate & Solicitor (Singapore) and Barrister-at-Law (England & Wales).

Her extensive experience covers public international law, trade, environment, international security, human rights, and compliance. Danielle has represented Singapore in major international negotiations such as the Trans-Pacific Partnership, Paris Agreement climate talks, and WTO proceedings, and advised on cases before the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea. She has served as a panelist and arbitrator under international trade agreements, an elected member of the Paris Agreement Implementation Committee, and chaired sessions at the World Intellectual Property Organization.

Danielle is active in various advisory and policy panels, including the Singapore Domain Name Dispute Policy Panel and International Law Association committees.

She is also recognized for her expertise in international cyber law, frequently leading seminars and speaking at global forums on cyber law and digital governance.

Danielle holds an LLB (Honours) from the University of Bristol and LLM (First Class Distinction) from the University of Cambridge.

Ambassador Luciano Mazza de Andrade

Ambassador of Brazil to Singapore

Ambassador Luciano Mazza de Andrade was born in 1970 and joined the Brazilian diplomatic service in 1994. Prior to arriving in Singapore, he occupied the position of Director of the Department of Science, Technology, Innovation and Intellectual Property at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, with responsibility, among others, for Science, Technology & Innovation, Intellectual Property and digital policy cooperation.

He holds a Bachelor's degree in Law from the University of São Paul and a Master of Laws (LLM) in European Law from the London School of Economics and Political Science. He also defended a thesis of High Studies on Mercosur's institutions at the Brazilian Diplomatic Academy.

He was previously posted, in different capacities, to the Brazilian embassies in the United Kingdom, Australia and Portugal, as well as to the Brazilian Mission to the European Union, in Brussels, and to the Permanent Delegation to ALADI and Mercosur, in Montevideo. He has worked extensively with trade and regional integration issues, including as head of the Division for Extra-Regional Trade Negotiations and as General Coordinator for WTO Dispute Settlement, in Brasília.

Dato' Indera Dr. Azfar bin Mohammad Mustafar

High Commissioner of Malaysia to Singapore

His Excellency Dato' Indera Dr Azfar bin Mohamad Mustafar is the High Commissioner of Malaysia to Singapore. From September 2018 until May 2021, he served as the Ambassador of Malaysia to France, with concurrent accreditation to Monaco and Portugal. Prior to that, he was the Director General, Department of Maritime Affairs of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Malaysia. Dr Azfar joined the Malaysian civil service in 1996, and his past assignments include, amongst others, service as Programme Coordinator, Institute of Diplomacy and Foreign Relations, and as an Assistant Director, National Security Council, Prime Minister's Department.

Dr Azfar holds a BA (Hons.) in South East Asian Studies from the University of Malaya, an MSc in Maritime Affairs from the World Maritime University (WMU) Sweden, and a PhD in Maritime Law from the University of Wales Swansea under the WMU-UWS Joint Doctoral Programme.

Dr Azfar was conferred the Darjah Indera Mahkota Pahang (DIMP) award by the Sultan of Pahang in 2018. More recently, Dr Azfar was conferred the Outstanding Alumnus Award by WMU. In 2024, Dr Azfar was conferred Darjah Kebesaran Mahkota Pahang – Sri Indera Mahkota Pahang (SIMP) carrying the title Dato' Indera.

Diane Tan

Deputy Director-General (Security) of the International Affairs Division of the Attorney-General's Chambers of Singapore

Diane was appointed Deputy Director-General (Security) of the International Affairs Division (IAD) of the Attorney-General's Chambers of Singapore (AGC) with effect from 1 July 2022. As DDG (Security), Diane oversees International Criminal Law and International Legal Criminal Cooperation, Security Proliferation, Diplomatic Law, International Human Rights Law, International Environmental Law, the Law of the Sea, and Aviation workstreams in IAD. In 2021, she was appointed as Singapore's Alternate Member to the Committee to facilitate implementation and promote compliance under the Paris Agreement (PAICC). She was re-appointed as Singapore's Member of PAICC in 2023. Diane is the legal advisor to the Singapore Delegation for the UNFCCC COP process.

Frederick Teo

Chief Executive Officer (CEO) GenZero

Frederick is the CEO of GenZero. He oversees the strategic direction of the company to achieve both climate impact and sustainable long-term financial returns. Prior to his appointment at GenZero, Frederick held various leadership positions in Sustainability, Portfolio Management and Business Continuity Management in his 12 years at Temasek International. As Managing Director of Sustainable Solutions, he established the team and conceived capability programmes in clean energy, urban, and climate and nature solutions. He led key initiatives such as the establishment of Climate Impact X, a global marketplace and exchange for carbon credits, as well as Singapore's first brownfield distributed district cooling retrofit project in partnership with SP Group. He also worked on value creation projects with some of Temasek's large portfolio companies like SingTel and Mediacorp, and led corporate governance and stewardship initiatives within the Portfolio Management team. Frederick also took the lead in several community programmes. In 2014, he partnered Temasek Foundation to execute a nationwide delivery of mask kits during a severe haze episode and worked with ST Engineering on the development of the world's first N95 masks specifically designed for young children. Frederick holds several sustainability advisory positions, including being a Member of the SEforALL Governance Board and World Economic Forum's Global Future Council on Climate and Nature Governance. He is also a member on the Advisory Panel of the Centre for Liveable

Cities which was established by Singapore's Ministry of National Development and Ministry of Sustainability and Environment to create and share knowledge on sustainable cities.

Frederick holds a MSc in International Relations from the London School of Economics, and a BA and MA in Philosophy, Politics and Economics from Lincoln College, Oxford University.

Prof. Dr. Winston Chow

Professor of Urban Climate, Singapore Management University (SMU); Co-Chair of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, Working Group II

Dr. Winston Chow is the Co-Chair of Working Group II of the United Nations body for assessing the science related to climate change, the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, where he co-leads the development of Working Group II's contribution (on climate impacts, adaptation and vulnerability) to the IPCC 7th Assessment Cycle reports, including a Special Report on Climate Change and Cities.

He is also a Professor of Urban Climate and Lee Kong Chian Research Fellow at Singapore Management University's (SMU) College of Integrative Studies (CIS), where he leads the urban infrastructure research pillar at SMU's Urban Institute. His research focuses on urban climate change risk, vulnerability, and heat island adaptation. Dr. Chow is the Co-Lead Principal Investigator for the Cooling Singapore initiative, which addresses urban heat challenges.

He holds a Ph.D. in Geography from Arizona State University, and Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Geography from the National University of Singapore.

Panel 1: Climate Change Commitments Under the Paris Agreement

Prof. Dr. M. R. Andri G. Wibisana

Professor of Environmental Law and Director in Chief of Center for Environmental Law and Climate Justice (CELJ), Universitas Indonesia Faculty of Law

Andri Gunawan Wibisana is a professor and has been a lecturer in Environmental Law and in the Field of Public Administration Law Studies, Faculty of Law, University of Indonesia since 1999. Prof. Andri earned a Bachelor of Laws degree from the Faculty of Law, University of Indonesia. He obtained a Master of Laws degree from the Law and Economics Program, Utrecht University, Netherlands, and a Doctorate degree from the Faculty of Law, Maastricht University, Netherlands with a dissertation entitled "Law and Economic Analysis of the Precautionary Principle." The Professorship was conferred on 10 April 2021 with an inaugural speech entitled: "The Anthropocene and the Law: Environmental Law in Dangerous Times." Prof. Andri's work in the world of education led him to become the first outstanding lecturer at the University of Indonesia in the field of Social Humanity in 2018. Apart from that, he also received a Fullbright scholarship for postdoctoral research at Columbia University (2012-2014), a post-doctoral grant from Koninklijke Nederlandse Akademie van Wetenschappen (KNAW), SPIN Program (2008-2010), and STUNED Scholarship for Masters Program (2001-2002).

Ikram Yassamine Mekidiche

Lawyer and Research Advocacy Specialist, Women of the South Speak Out

Mekidiche Ikram Yassamine is a dynamic researcher, advocate, and lawyer specializing in gender-based violence (GBV), women's rights, and climate justice. She currently works as a research consultant and fellow with Women of the South Speak Out (WOSSO), where she focuses on policy engagement and advocacy for women in the Global South. With extensive experience in legal research and analysis, Ikram has also completed a fellowship with the US State Department. Ikram's professional journey spans roles with the Rule of Law Youth Network at the Council of Europe, where she focused on climate justice and anti-corruption initiatives, as well as positions at Deutsche Welle Academy and Ouest-info newspaper, enhancing her expertise in journalism and media development. She is currently a lawyer-in-training in Algeria and holds dual master's degrees in law and communications and public relations.

A passionate advocate for women's empowerment, global citizenship, and climate justice, Ikram combines her legal, journalistic, and advocacy skills to address global challenges and contribute to international dialogues on peace, security, and social justice.

Prof. Dr. Garima Maheshwari

Assistant Professor, Vivekananda School of Law and Legal Studies

Thanh Mai Nguyen

Law Student, Diplomatic Academy of Vietnam

Hung Thinh Vu

Law Student, Diplomatic Academy of Vietnam

I am currently a first year student at the Diplomatic Academy of Viet Nam. I major in International Law and do research in the fields of international environmental law, law of the sea, and public international law.

Regarding academic experience, before college, I mainly conducted research and debate about climate, environmental, and humanitarian issues in Model United Nations (MUN) activities. After ranking first place on admission to my major in September 2024, I continue to carry out research into climate and environmental law and actively engage in expert workshops and conferences in this field. Although I have not competed in international law contests and moot courts, I reserve my intention to do so in the near future.

I firmly believe that, with my skills and experience in research and writing as well as public speaking and debate, I will make meaningful contributions to this conference and to the literature on climate change law in general.

Dr. Sanaz Youssefi

Postdoctoral Fellow, Dalhousie University

Sanaz Youssefi is an accomplished legal scholar and practitioner specializing in energy, corporate, and environmental law. She holds a Master of Law in International Trade and Economic Law from the University of Tehran, Iran's top university, and a PhD in Oil and Gas Law, during which she was a visiting researcher at the University of Calgary (2017), focusing on upstream energy regulations.

As a Postdoctoral Fellow at Dalhousie University, Sanaz explored legal challenges in climate change and renewable energy transitions.

She currently serves as Head of Legal and Legal Manager at Kayson Inc., a leading infrastructure firm, where she applies her expertise in investment arbitration, EPC/BOT contracts, and energy law.

With extensive experience in comparative legal analysis, Sanaz bridges academia and industry, contributing to policy and corporate governance in energy and infrastructure sectors. Her work reflects a deep commitment to advancing sustainable and legally sound energy solutions.

Minh Nhut Le

Lecturer, Ho Chi Minh City University of Law

Panel 2: Climate Change – Just Transition

Dr. Yew Wei Lit

Senior Lecturer, Department of Geography, Universiti Malaya

Dr. Yew Wei Lit is a senior lecturer in the Department of Geography at Universiti Malaya. Prior to this, he was a lecturer at Hong Kong Baptist University, a postdoctoral fellow at Yale-NUS College, and a visiting assistant professor at City University of Hong Kong. Dr. Yew obtained his PhD in Asian and International Studies from City University of Hong Kong. He received his M.Sc. in Comparative Politics (Asia) from the London School of Economics. With an interdisciplinary background in environmental politics, his research has focused on the politics of urban development and environmental justice in China and Southeast Asia. His works on environmental protests, urban governance and civil society have been published in academic journals such as the Journal of Environmental Management, China Information, and Pacific Affairs.

Dr. Peixuan Shang

Staff Attorney, Natural Resources Defense Council, China Office

Peixuan Shang is a Staff Attorney of Environmental Law and Governance Project at the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC), China Program. She focuses on strengthening China's environmental and climate law frameworks. Her work includes legal research and policy advocacy on topics such as climate governance, energy transition and sustainable development. She holds a Ph.D. in Public International Law from Tsinghua University, with research on marine plastic governance under international law, an LL.M. from Leiden University, and an LL.B. from China Foreign Affairs University. Prior to her current role, she contributed to international legal and policy work through positions at international organizations and academic institutions such as Greenpeace, UNDP and Yenching Academy of Peking University. Peixuan has published and presented widely on international environmental law and is passionate about bridging global legal principles with China's domestic environmental governance.

Dr. Opeyemi Gbadegesin

Lecturer, Faculty of Law, University of Ibadan

Opeyemi A. Gbadegesin (LL.B, B.L, LL.M, Ph.D) is a Lecturer in the Department of Public Law, Faculty of Law, University of Ibadan, Nigeria, where he also earned his doctorate in natural resource law and sustainable development. His interdisciplinary research interests span environmental law, natural resource governance, environmental constitutionalism, and the legal dimensions of sustainability transitions. He has published widely in leading academic journals and has presented at prestigious conferences across Africa, Europe, and North America. Dr. Gbadegesin's recent work explores indigenous ecological knowledge, the legal architecture of climate adaptation, and the integration of artificial intelligence in environmental enforcement. He is a member of the Nigerian Bar Association and the Nigerian Association of Law Teachers. With a strong background in both legal practice and academic scholarship, his work seeks to bridge theory, policy, and grassroots realities in advancing environmental justice and equitable resource governance in Africa.

Dr. Nguyen Thi Lan Huong

Deputy Head of International Trade Law Department, Ho Chi Minh City University of Law

Dr Nguyen Thi Lan Huong serves as the deputy head of the Department of International Trade Law within the Faculty of International Law at the Ho Chi Minh City University of Law. She obtained her master's degree from Nagoya University (Japan) and received her PhD in Law at the Faculty of Law, Criminal Justice and Public Administration at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland. Her research and teaching expertise encompasses international trade and investment law, international investment dispute resolution, and trade and sustainable development. Dr Huong is a published author and co-editor of significant works, including textbooks and books on international trade law, investor-state dispute settlement.

Ahmad Sabirin

President, Institute for Climate Law and Sustainable Policy

Ahmad Sabirin is a dynamic early-career legal and policy professional with strong expertise in climate, energy, and environmental law, international economic and competition law, SDGs, and the green economy. Since his 3-year career, he has published more than 30 papers and 3 books. He has presented his paper in several conferences with funding, such as Ohio State University (2025), Asia School of Business (2025), Diplomatic Academy of Viet Nam (2025) Utrecht University (2024), ASEAN Centre for Energy (2024), NUS (2024) and Malaya University (2024), Cambodia Development Resource Institute (2024), Monash University (2024). He received an outstanding participation in ASEAN Law and Policy 2024, NUS Law. As President of the Institute for Climate Law & Sustainable Policy, he actively advocates for youth participation in sustainability policy and climate action. His current research projects focus on the intersection of Indonesia JETP, including clean energy financing and investment, climate and environmental law, and green economy policy.

Muhammad Amjad Raza

PhD Scholar, Government College University Faisalabad

Muhammad Amjad Raza is a PhD Scholar in Political Science at Government College University Faisalabad, specializing in systemic integration of climate governance within international frameworks. His research focuses on environmental politics, South Asian geopolitics, intercontinental connectivity, and economic development, with emphasis on policy coherence between transnational initiatives (e.g., China's BRI, AU's Agenda 2063) and environmental accountability. As a consultant for the Climate Diplomacy Lab, he conducts environmental impact assessments and advises on rights-based climate resilience, sustainable infrastructure, and corporate accountability in extractive industries. His peer-reviewed publications analyze climate-energy diplomacy and infrastructure governance in Global South contexts. Mr. Raza brings 14+ years of cross-sectoral expertise in policy analysis, project management, and stakeholder engagement, aligning development frameworks with climate justice imperatives. He has presented research at international forums including the CAREC Institute and Pakistan-Polish conferences.

Panel 3: Intersections of Climate Change Law and Other Areas of Law

Prof. Dr. Arjuna Dibley

Assistant Professor, Faculty of Law, National University of Singapore

Arjuna Dibley is Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law, National University of Singapore (NUS). He also holds honorary appointments at the University of Oxford, and the University of Melbourne. Dibley received his Doctor of the Science of Law (J.S.D) degree from Stanford University, as a General Sir John Monash Scholar.

Dibley's research is primarily at the intersection of law, economics and sustainability. He pursues traditional legal analysis and interdisciplinary research in his areas of interest. His work has been published in the Harvard Environmental Law Review, Nature and Science, among others. Recognising his unique research agenda, Dibley was awarded the Paul Bourke Award by the Academy of Social Sciences in Australia, as the leading Early Career Researcher in Law.

Dibley has been active in international policy processes. He has been invited to lead significant policy reports, including as a lead author on the United Nations Environment Programme's Adaptation Gap Report, as well as invited to speak to senior policymakers at international organisations such as the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development. Dibley is also on the board of CarbonPlan, a US based think tank.

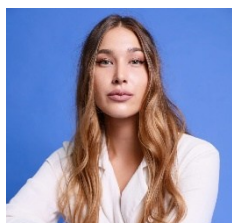

Prior to joining NUS, Dibley was at the University of Melbourne, a lawyer at Baker McKenzie and a strategy adviser at Pollination.

Davit Khachatryan

Lecturer, Russian-Armenian University of Armenia and American University of Armenia

Davit Khachatryan is an international lawyer and lecturer specializing in arbitration, investment law, and public international law. He teaches courses on investment law, alternative dispute resolution, and international legal frameworks, combining academic depth with practical insight. Holding three LLM degrees, including in Investment Treaty Arbitration and International Operational Law, his work explores the intersection of law and conflict, with a particular interest in human rights, humanitarian law, and international adjudication. He regularly contributes through writing, teaching, and public engagement.

Tajra Smajic

PhD Candidate, Chinese University of Hong Kong

Tajra Smajic is a PhD candidate at the Chinese University of Hong Kong, specializing in the law of the sea. Her research analyses the impact of the Common Heritage of Mankind principle on investment in deep seabed mining, examining the intersection between international investment law, environmental protection, sustainable development, and global commons governance.

Before beginning her doctoral studies, Tajra obtained her LL.M. in International Economic Law from CUHK and completed her LL.B. at Maastricht University European Law School. She has interned with the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea and the UN Division for Ocean Affairs and the Law of the Sea. She has also coached the CUHK Jessup Moot team for two years.

Her research interests include deep seabed mining, climate change, and the interface between science and policy. Prior to turning to the law of the sea, she also researched and published on human rights, particularly the rights of children in unrecognized states.

Dr. Elena Pribytkova

Senior Research Fellow, Centre for International Law (CIL), National University of Singapore

Elena Pribytkova received a Doctor of the Science of Law (J.S.D.) degree from Columbia Law School and is a Habilitation candidate at the Faculty of Law of the University of Basel. Her main research areas are Human Rights Law, Public International Law, Digital Technologies, Environmental Law, Sustainable Development, Comparative Law, and Legal and Political Philosophy. In particular, she focuses on the role of international law and human rights in reducing poverty and inequality as well as in promoting social, global, digital, and environmental (including climate) justice and sustainable development. Elena has held various research and teaching appointments at leading universities and research institutes all over the world, including Columbia Law School, New York University School of Law, University of Oxford, European University Institute, Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law, Heidelberg University, Swiss Institute of Comparative Law, University of Basel, University of Michigan Law School, and National University of Singapore.

Dr. Yinling Zhou

Associate Researcher, Wuhan University Academy of International Law and Global Governance

Yinling Zhou worked as an associate researcher in Wuhan University Academy of International Law and Global Governance, China. She carried out joint PhD studies in Goettingen University, Germany and got PhD degree from Wuhan University's School of law in 2015. After graduation, she has worked for 7 years in global health research institute/Public health School of Wuhan University as a post-doctor/lecturer. She has carried out research project from Humanities and Social Sciences Foundation of the Ministry of Education of China, and participated in Major Projects of the National Social Science Foundation of China. She is the Early Career Researcher Board Member of international journal, e.g. Science in One Health. She has published paper in SSCI/SCI Journal and presented paper in several international law seminars, including European Society of International Law Research Forum and American Society of International Law Research Forum. Her research mainly focuses on global health governance, international health law.

Edwin Vanderbruggen

Senior Lecturer, Foreign Trade University

Edwin Vanderbruggen (The Netherlands, 55 years old – LL.B. University of Antwerpen, LL.M. University of Brussels, attended The Hague Academy of International Law, attending University of Bern's World Trade Institute) is an international legal adviser and academic with extensive experience assisting Governments and international institutions such as the Asian Development Bank and the International Finance Corporation on policy, reform and transactions. As the Senior Partner of 200 lawyers/consultants legal and advisory firm Andersen/VDB Loi with offices in Bangladesh, Cambodia, Laos, Myanmar and Vietnam, he has more than 25 years of experience assisting multinational corporations and lenders with multibillion $ infrastructure, energy projects and other investments in Southeast Asia. He has taught at various universities in Europe and Asia and is now regularly lecturing at the Foreign Trade University in Hanoi, Vietnam. He has authored several textbooks, and some of his scholarly contributions have been published by peer-reviewed legal and tax journals from across the world.

Panel 4: Artificial Intelligence (AI), Technology, Innovation, and Climate Change

Dr. Jon Mark Truby

Visiting Research Associate Professor, Centre for International Law (CIL), National University of Singapore

Dr. Jon Mark Truby leads the AI and technology law research at the NUS Centre for International Law, focusing on the intersection of international law, artificial intelligence, quantum computing, and emerging technologies. As Chair of the International Law Association Committee on AI & Technology Law and member of the CIL Peace Project, he is a widely cited authority in AI law, governance, and sustainability. Dr. Truby has held visiting positions at Oxford's Institute for Ethics in AI and Newcastle University and has presented his research at the United Nations General Assembly.

Previously, Dr. Truby was a law faculty member and Director of the legal research centre at Qatar University (2010–2023), producing significant research and policy outputs in AI and emerging technology. He has secured substantial research grants, launched legal education initiatives, and contributed to major events such as advising on the 2022 FIFA World Cup and COP UN Climate Change efforts. He holds a Ph.D. and LL.B. with First Class Honours from Newcastle Law School, a postgraduate diploma from York, and has practiced law at a top global firm in London.

He serves in advisory roles for UNESCO, DIFC, and the International Association of Privacy Professionals, and remains active in AI law research and collaboration globally.

Prof. Dr. Suryanarayana Raju Vadapalli

Assistant Professor, Hidayatullah National Law University

Ivan Harris Tanyag

Graduate Student, School of Urban and Regional Planning, University of the Philippines, Diliman

Mr. Ivan Harris Tanyag is a technical specialist at the Philippine Institute for Development Studies (PIDS), where he provides technical advice and conducts research on various policy domains. He is also currently serving as a policy consultant for the Institute for Climate and Sustainable Cities (ICSC). Previously, he worked with institutions such as the Ateneo School of Government and the University of the Philippines Center for Integrative and Development Studies. He has authored chapters in internationally published volumes, including Socioeconomic Impacts of High-Speed Rail Systems (Springer Nature, 2025) and The Routledge Handbook of Anti-Corruption Research and Practice (Routledge, 2025). His expertise spans urban and regional planning, public policy, and development studies, with research interests in transportation economics, built and natural environment, spatial analysis, and remote sensing. He took his undergraduate degree in Political Science at the University of the Philippines Diliman, where he is also expected to gain his graduate degree in Urban and Regional Planning (Transportation).

Prof. Md. Farhan Rashed

Assistant Professor, Department of Law, Uttara University

Md. Farhan Rashed is currently serving as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Law at Uttara University, Dhaka, Bangladesh, with over four years of academic experience. He holds both LLB and LLM degrees from the University of Dhaka, Bangladesh, with a strong focus on Artificial Intelligence, Environmental Law, Human Rights, and Alternative Dispute Resolution. Mr. Rashed has actively contributed to legal education through various administrative and advisory roles and is an accomplished legal researcher. His scholarly articles have been published in reputed peer-reviewed journals. He combines multidisciplinary expertise with a passion for legal innovation, aiming to advance the intersection of law and emerging technologies to promote environmental justice and sustainable development.

He aims to pursue further research on the interface between Artificial Intelligence and law, with a focus on developing inclusive, ethical, and forward-looking legal frameworks.

Prof. Dr. Niharika Kumar

Assistant Professor, University of Lucknow

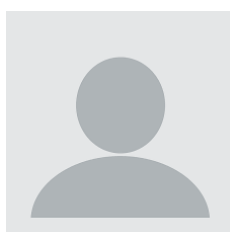

Niharika Kumar is an Assistant Professor in Faculty of Law, University of Lucknow and has a teaching experience of more than 8 years. Her area of research pertains to LGBTQ+ studies, Environmental law and International Law. She has completed her B.A.LL.B. (Hons.) and LL.M. (Bronze Medallist) from Dr. Ram Manohar Lohiya National Law University, Lucknow. She has completed her Ph.D. from Faculty of Law, University of Lucknow on the critical issue of Transgender Rights. She has published 14 articles in National and International Journals, contributed 8 book chapters, delivered 9 talks on national radio, IIT Roorkee, NLU, IGNOU and other institutions. She has presented 9 papers in various National and International conferences. She is presently working as co-director on ICSSR major project on “Role of Public Policies in better Environmental Management of Municipalities in the State of Uttar Pradesh with special reference to Smart Cities of the State”.

Shobhit Pratap Singh

Research Scholar, University of Lucknow

Shobhit Pratap Singh is a Ph.D. Scholar (NET-JRF) at Faculty of Law, University of Lucknow. His research area includes Public International Law, Jurisprudence, and Legal Theory, with a particular focus on sovereignty, reparations, state responsibility, refugee law, global south, and theoretical implications such as subjects and sources of law, and interpreting the connotations of various schools of legal thought. He is pursuing his doctoral thesis on the topic – ‘A Study on the Evolving Characteristics of Sovereignty in International Law in the light of Emerging Theoretical Narrative of Metamodernism’, under the supervision of Dr. Niharika, Faculty of Law, University of Lucknow. Shobhit holds a degree in B.A.LL.B. and LL.M. from Dr. Ram Manohar Lohiya National Law University, Lucknow and Gujarat National Law University. Currently, he is working on to refine his thematic research areas to expand the contextual understanding by publishing, presenting papers, and attending seminars.

Cecilia Therese Guiao

Head Legal Officer, Institute of International Legal Studies, University of the Philippines College of Law

Panel 5: Legal Responsibility for Climate Change, Climate Litigation, and Reparations

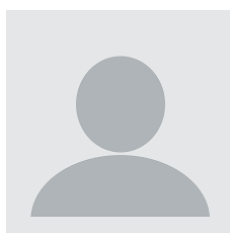

Prof. Rommel J. Casis

Associate Professor/Director, Institute of International Legal Studies, University of the Philippines College of Law

Professor Casis teaches Public International Law and Supervised Legal Research in the JD Program, and International Environmental Law and International Humanitarian Law in the LLM Program of the University of the Philippines (UP) College of Law. He was appointed Director of Studies of The Hague Academy of International Law. Since 2016, he has served as the Director of the Institute of International Legal Studies at the UP Law Center. He is the primary author of the Philippine volume of the Encyclopedia of Public International Law. He serves as the State Practice Rapporteur for the Philippines in the Asian Yearbook of International Law (AYBIL). He regularly publishes in international law journals. He has also co-authored and co-edited books on the Law of Treaties and Asian Comparative Law. He is also the Managing Editor of the Asia-Pacific Journal of International Humanitarian Law, the Associate Editor of the Philippine Yearbook of International Law, and a member of the editorial Board of the Korean Journal of International and Comparative Law. He serves as a member of the Executive Council of the Asian Society of International Law and a member of the Governing Board of the Foundation for the Development of International Law in Asia.

Prof. Dr. Hélène Tigroudja

Visiting Professor of Public International Law, Centre for International Law (CIL), National University of Singapore

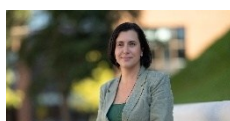

Vincenzo V. Elia

Research Associate, Centre for International Law (CIL), National University of Singapore

Vincenzo is a PhD candidate in international law and European Union law at the universities of Geneva and Bologna (double degree). Before joining CIL, he worked as a teaching and research assistant at the University of Geneva, was a visiting scholar at the University of Cambridge, participated in and coached teams for Moot Court competitions in EU Law and Human Rights Law and interned at The Hague Academy of International Law and Université Grenoble-Alpes. Engaged in legal and scientific research since 2018, Vincenzo has also been assistant editor of the Leiden Journal of International Law and participated in developing various e-learning modules at the University of Geneva. Since university studies, he has been committed to protecting human rights and the environment in various organisations, and he is one of the ambassadors of the Green Rights Coalition.

Vincenzo's education includes an Advanced LL.M in Public International Law at Leiden University, a Master's degree in European Law at Université Grenoble-Alpes (Idex scholarship of excellence), both a Bachelor's and Master's degree at Alma Mater Studiorum – University of Bologna, during which he also studied for one year at Université Paris – Nanterre (Erasmus+ scholarship).

Prof. Dr. Miriam Cohen

Associate Professor and Canada Research Chair, Université de Montréal

Prof. Dr. Millicent McCreath

Assistant Professor, Durham University

Millicent McCreath is Assistant Professor in International Environmental Law at Durham Law School, Durham University. Her research is focussed on international marine environmental law and international dispute settlement. Prior to joining Durham Millicent was a PhD candidate and Teaching Fellow at UNSW Sydney. Her PhD entitled 'Safeguarding the community interest in the protection of the marine environment in areas under national jurisdiction' was awarded in 2024. From 2017-2019 Millicent was a Research Associate in the Oceans team at CIL.

Abbas Amirhussaini,

Graduate Student, Imam Sadigh University

Panel 6: Trends in International Environmental Law and Governance

Railla Puno

Associate Lead, Climate Change Law and Policy, Centre for International Law (CIL), National University of Singapore

Railla first developed an interest in international climate law and policy as a law student working for the University of the Philippines Institute for International Legal Studies. Since then, she has attended UNFCCC sessions in various capacities, including as negotiator and legal adviser for the Philippine government, and as Policy Coordinator for Climate Action Network, co-lead of the ENGO constituency. She previously worked for the Climate Change Commission of the Philippines as Legal Services Division Chief where she oversaw the national process for signing and ratifying the Paris Agreement and led the coordination of the Philippine delegation for COP 22 in Marrakesh. Railla has also done extensive research on oceans and climate, climate change and the rule of law, governance of climate geoengineering technologies, REDD+ and agriculture, and human rights and the environment, in collaboration with various intergovernmental organizations, national governments, and civil society groups.

In 2020, Railla obtained her LL.M. degree in Environmental Law, specializing in Global Environmental Law, from Pace University's Elisabeth Haub School of Law with summa cum laude honors. She also holds a Juris Doctor degree from the University of the Philippines and a Bachelor of Science degree, major in Psychology, from the Ateneo de Manila University. She is a member of the Philippine bar since 2015

Prof. Dr. Wan Mohd. Zulhafiz Wan Zahari

Associate Professor, Ahmad Ibrahim Kuliyah of Laws, International Islamic University of Malaysia

Associate Professor Dr. Wan Mohd Zulhafiz bin Wan Zahari, PhD, FCIS (CS)(CGP) is the Deputy Dean (Postgraduate, Research, Innovation and Development) at Ahmad Ibrahim Kuliyah of Laws, International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM), where he also serves as the Company Secretary of IIUM. He was a Hubert H. Humphrey Fellow (2024/2025) at American University Washington College of Law, United States, and a Senior Research Fellow at Harvard Law School's Program in Islamic Law (Summer 2025).

Dr. Wan Zulhafiz holds a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Law from the University of Aberdeen, United Kingdom; a Master of Business Administration (MBA) in Energy Management from Universiti Teknologi PETRONAS; a Master of Laws (LLM) in Corporate Law from Universiti Teknologi MARA; and a Bachelor of Laws (LLB) (Hons) from the International Islamic University Malaysia. His research focuses on energy law, ESG, and the integration of climate change into legal and governance frameworks.

Catherine Hall

PhD Researcher, University of Eastern Finland

Ricardo Murilo da Silva

PhD Student, Federal University of Santa Catarina

Prof. Dr. Patan Saleem Akram

Assistant Professor, Koneru Lakshmaiah Education Foundation

Dr. P. Saleem Akram is currently serving as Associate Professor and Professor In-Charge of Academics at Koneru Lakshmaiah Education Foundation (Deemed to be University), Guntur, India. He holds a Ph.D. in Electronics and Communication Engineering, an M.Tech in Communications, and dual law degrees (LL.B and LL.M), with a research focus in constitutional law, family law, and cyber law. Dr. Akram has over 16 years of academic experience and has published more than 39 research papers indexed in SCI, Scopus, and Web of Science, alongside four Indian patents and one Canadian copyright. He has received the Best Teacher Award from KL University for four consecutive years. His interdisciplinary research spans Wireless communication, IoT, Network Security, and legal frameworks. He is a reviewer for the IEEE IoT Journal and has contributed as a coordinator for international conferences. Passionate about legal scholarship and policy integration, Dr. Akram's current work explores the constitutional dimensions of climate change and international law.

Prof. Rommel J. Casis

Associate Professor/Director, Institute of International Legal Studies, University of the Philippines College of Law

Closing Panel: Reflections and Way Forward

Dr. Tara Davenport

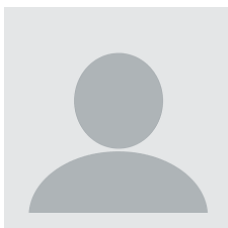

Asia Pacific Centre for Environmental Law (APCEL) and Centre for International Law (CIL), National University of Singapore

Dr. Tara Davenport is an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law, National University of Singapore (NUS) and a Senior Research Fellow at the Centre for International Law (CIL) at NUS. She has an LLB from the London School of Economics, an LLM in Maritime Law from NUS, an LLM and JSD from Yale Law School. She received a Fulbright Scholarship in 2013 and the NUS Overseas Graduate Scholarship in 2014. She is a qualified Advocate and Solicitor in Singapore. Her current research interests are public international law, law of the sea and international dispute settlement. She has written on the South China Sea disputes, submarine cables, deep seabed mining and maritime security issues. She was a member of the Legal Working Group on Liability for Environmental Harm from Activities in the Area convened by the Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI), the Commonwealth Secretariat and the Secretariat of the International Seabed Authority. She is also the Rapporteur for the International Law Association Study Committee on Submarine Cables and Pipelines.

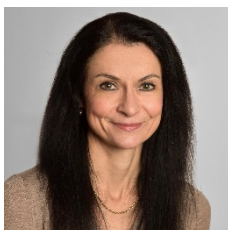

Prof. Dr. M. R. Andri G. Wibisana

Professor of Environmental Law and Director in Chief of Center for Environmental Law and Climate Justice (CELJ), Universitas Indonesia Faculty of Law

Cecilia Therese Guiao

Head Legal Officer, Institute of International Legal Studies, University of the Philippines College of Law

Prof. Dr. Petra Minnerop,

Professor of International Law and Director of Centre for Sustainable Development Law and Policy (CSDLP), Durham University

Supported by

Dr. Yew Wei Lit

Senior Lecturer, Department of Geography, Universiti Malaya

Danielle Yeow

Adjunct Senior Research Fellow / Lead, Climate Change Law and Policy, National University of Singapore Centre for International Law