

Wolfram Tonhauser

Mr Tonhauser is the former Director and Head of the Nuclear and Treaty Law Section in the Office of Legal Affairs of the IAEA. In this capacity, he advised the Secretariat and Member States on all legal aspects relating to nuclear safety and security, nuclear energy, nuclear applications, technical cooperation and civil liability for nuclear damage.

Mr Tonhauser was the Legal Officer responsible for the negotiation of key international legal instruments adopted under IAEA auspices such as the Convention on Nuclear Safety, the Joint Convention on the Safety of Spent Fuel Management and the Safety of Radioactive Waste Management, the Amendment to the Convention on the Physical Protection of Nuclear Material, the Code of Conduct on the Safety and Security of Radioactive Sources and the Code of Conduct on the Safety of Research Reactors and served as Scientific Secretary to many international meetings and conferences in these fields. He also managed the IAEA's Legislative Assistance Programme, which provides education and training to IAEA Member States in all areas of nuclear law and assists them in drafting corresponding national legislation.

Mr Tonhauser is a regularly invited speaker at various academic institutions and forums, a co-author of the IAEA's Handbook on Nuclear Law, a member of the Board of Management of the International Nuclear Law Association, the Chairperson of the International Group of Legal Experts on Fusion Energy (FELEX) and has been re-appointed as Visiting Research Professor at the National University of Singapore.